2 Vocal percussion on a whole 'nother level Coming from my mind 2,Being one of, if not the most memetic Jojo part, it's bound to have more than one meme as listed below. For Jojo memes based on other parts, see here.Please add entries in the following format if possible: The meme, [[labelnote:Explanation|The explanation behind the meme, if necessary.]][[abelnote]] Explanation Like this. Further mutations and successor memes, if any. open/close all folders. Memes derived from Part 5 as a whole/Unsorted. I, Giorno Giovanna, have a dream. note Giorno mentioning his dream got exaggerated by the fandom as he tries to mention it every situation possible, no matter how inappropriate it is. By the by, in Italian that would be "Io, Giorno Giovanna, ho un sogno." I, Giorno Giovanna... Explanation The above has been snow-cloned as needed to apply to just about anything involving Giorno. For example, videos of the dub have included such user comments as, "I, Giorno Giovanna, have learned English!" Joking about how Mannish Boy and Death 13 would be able to defeat Giorno because Death 13 goes into dreams and Giorno always has a dream. This fan animation of Haruno Shiobana undergoing a "Magical Girl!" transformation into Giorno Giovanna has become rather popular. "This taste... is the taste of someone who's LYING! Giorno Giovanni!" Explanation Early on in Part 5, Bucciarati is able to prove that Giorno is lying by tasting his sweat in an extremely Ho Yay-tastic manner. Banana Doppio. Explanation Doppio as a banana. That's it, really. Became a widely used image in shiptops and random surreal humor. It's basically Chowder but with gay gangsters.Explanation Due to the characters' names being all based on various Italian food, the series drew some comparisons to the cartoon series Chowder, which had similar Edible Theme Naming going on. Also Mista is sometimes compared to Caesar Zeppeli, due to caesar and insalata mista both being types of salad (though likely unintentional in Caesar's case.) And also this. "Giorno does X" Shut the fuck up.

Giorno! note Abbaocchio's utter hatred of Giorno for seemingly no good reason has become his defining character trait and is usually exaggerated in fanworks or comment sections. The latter of which have depicted him telling Giorno to shut up, most commonly for simply breathing or existing. Cheese Boi is moudly.Explanation Pannacotta Fugo, due to his clothing being full of holes, has frequently been compared to a slice of Swiss cheese. The fact he's colored green in the anime just made it even worse. Strawberry FugoExplanation There are also fans championing for Fugo's original color scheme, with red clothes and white hair, even making edited screenshots from the anime of Fugo in their preferred color scheme. Do not weep for cheese boy. Explanation This quote from JelloApocalypse's video about JoJo has gotten very popular. It's hard to not find this whenever Fugo is brought up. "Wait, Naranacia's a boy?"Explanation Due to his attire and voice, Naranacia is frequently mistaken for a girl by many newcomers to the series, which may be a reference to Aerosmith's (his Stand's namesake) song "Dude Looks Like a Lady", "Lesbian of the day: Naranacia from JoJo's Bizarre Adventure!"Explanation A now-deleted post from Twitter account lesbian of the day that went viral for mistaking Naranacia for a girl. Naranacia is best girl.Note For the same reason, fans declare him to be "best girl". Naranacia is baby.Note The fandom loves to exaggerate Naranacia's childish traits and portray him as extremely innocent and adorable, drawing him to look smaller, cuter and even more feminine, or acting younger than his actual age (17), doing things like wanting to be tucked into bed by Bucciarati and drawing pictures with crayons. (over screenshots of him killing people) Oh, but Naranacia is just such a baby!note Half of the fandom treats Naranacia as their baby while the other half points out that he held Fugo at knifepoint in their first appearance, beat up a random civilian for threatening him, tortured Zuccherò's severed head, blew up a bunch of cars and killed four grown men all by himself in less than a week. Naranacia's NotebookExplanation A variation of the basic "book of facts" meme where the mememaker's opinion is written in Naranacia's math book. Another variation is to write something the mememaker disagrees with in Naranacia's math book, followed by the panel of Fugo stabbing Naranacia in the face with a fork. Mista is Kira in disguise.Explanation Many fans have joked that Guido Mista is actually just Yoshikage Kira in disguise, given that Mista and Kosaku Kawajiri, Kira's stolen identity, have nearly identical faces. Naranacia did 9/11Explanation Due to the series being set in the year 2001 and Naranacia's stand being an airplane, it's been joked by some fans that he was responsible for the September 11 attacks that year. YA YA YA, COCO JUMBO, YA YA YE! note The Stand-using turtle in Part 5 is named after an insanely catchy song, which many assume plays non-stop for anyone inside the turtle. For added laughs, the turtle's Stand is named "Mr. President", after the band behind said song. Related to that, people treating the song as Polnareff's Leitmotif. Explanations(Spoilers) After his body is killed by Diavolo, Polnareff's spirit survives by inhabiting Coco Jumbo. OH HOLY SHIT I AM FUCKING FABULOUS!Explanation Often used to mock Part V, the point in the series where buff character designs were shifted in favor for more realistic proportions.

Giorno Drinks "Tea". Explanation One of Part 5 most well-known scenes is when Giorno drinks tea that Abbaocchio served him...from a teapot that Abbaocchio pissed in. The scene became pretty infamous among the fandom, with some fans joking about Giorno liking urine. "What the hell? That's disgusting!" "You have no right to say that, Mr. Piss." Explanation During the Clash/Talking Head arc, Naranacia pisses in a public toilet to keep the team away from the water that Squalo's Stand is about to manifest in, and Abbaocchio says, "What the hell? That's disgusting!" Fans immediately started joking that since he pissed in a teapot and served it to Giorno, he has no room to talk. "That's bullshit, but I believe it"Explanation Using a manga panel/anime frame when Giorno asking the rest of yet to be formed Team Bucciarati/Bodyguard Team, it is a made-up but memetic line attributed to Giorno sometimes used to joke there have people go along with something farfetched or unbelievable. MO-00DY BLUES. Explanation A common YouTube comment copypasta, with variations such as "I'll use MO-00dy Blues to rewind this song." The 0:00 part when clicked will repeat the video you're watching from the beginning, alluding to Moody Blues' rewind power. Polnareff, just have no such thing as a Mirror World. note In Stardust Crusaders, the key to win against the Hanged Man is when Kakyoin realizes that Hanged Man doesn't live inside a "mirror world" and there's no such thing. But later in Part 5, Illuso's stand, Man in the Mirror, is literally a mirror world. This meme was made popular by a video made even before the anime adaptation People being confused about how King Crimson works will often result in everyone saying no one knows how it works.Explanation The theory of King Crimson is not that difficult to understand. It has two main abilities — Time Erasure and Epitaph. Time Erasure allows KC to delete portions of time for up to 10 seconds, while Epitaph allows its user Diavolo to see 10 seconds into the future. However, the myriad possibilities of situations and consequences of erasing time are the source of much confusion. Also, the details are not portrayed consistently. This happens a lot when Stands are first introduced, but his relatively few appearances exaggerate this effect. IT JUST WORKS Explanation The standard response to said people confused about how King Crimson works, becoming just as memetic in its own right. Notably, Robert Frpp, the sole consistent member of the band King Crimson (which the Stand is named after), acknowledged the meme in a Facebook post. Ping Crimson Explanation One common explanation for Diavolo's Stand power nicknames it to the effects of a lag spike in online video games; everything queued up to occur during the spike happens all at once as soon as the lag clears up, just like how the consequences of actions done within erased time still occur at the end of the deleted portion. Fans found this simple analogy to be shockingly accurate, leading to the punny Fan Nickname of "Ping Crimson" along with many jokes about instances of conveniently or inconveniently-timed lag spikes actually being the work of King Crimson, or Diavolo being likened to God Modders who deliberately cause lag spikes to get an unfair advantage in online matches. "ALRIGHT, YOU WANNA KNOW FINE?! I ADMIT IT, I DON'T KNOW HOW KING CRIMSON WORKS!!"Explanation A viral video of someone understanding and getting angry at King Crimson's power to skip/erase time. Turned into a copypasta and was hilarious in Hindsight thanks to it coming out on February 22nd 2016 and 3 years later, King Crimson was revealed in the anime. Ironically, the explanation for King Crimson's ability in the anime has caused a lot less confusion due to how it's portrayed. Todd Howard is King Crimson. Explanation While he was describing some features of Fallout 4, the Bethesda producer said "It just works". Comparisons between him and King Crimson ensued. RING RING RING RING. Boss is that you?Explanation (Spoilers) When Doppio is conversing with his other personality, Diavolo, he always has to imitate a ringtone and pick something up and talk through it as if it were a phone. This gets thrown in alongside other Diavolo memes due to just how ridiculous some of the things he picks up are. And Giorno lied... Explanation When Giorno was little, he saved the life of a mafioso by pointing to the side and telling his pursuers, "He went that way..." There's a text box nearby that says "And Giorno lied..." Giorno's words are usually erased and rewritten with any statement. After DioYouMeme released a series of "leaked" episodes of the anime (which were just an abridged parody of the manga's plot with static artwork and text-to-speech), several lines, especially Giorno's catchphrase "I like-a piss" (courtesy of an Italian text-to-speech program used for Giorno) and Bucciarati's "Nice...", have become in-jokes within the JoJo community. "They killed Mario/Luigi!"Explanation The Janitor that notices that Giorno's lighter is still letting out gas, and is later murdered by Black Sabbath, has drawn comparisons to Nintendo's favorite plumbers due to his mustache and attire. The fact that he was dressed in red in the manga, but green in the anime, only serves to heighten the Mario/Luigi references. Spread SudoExplanation A very blatant Bland-Name Product parodying Sprite, seen on Giorno's table next to the loaf of bread he puts the lighter on. Later, Mista is seen drinking another Sprite parody called "Spalite". The torture dance. Explanation A rather surreal sequence where Mista, Naranacia, and Fugo all suddenly start dancing while Mista is in the process of torturing an enemy Stand user for information. Taken a step further in the anime, which turns it into a full-on music video and Disney Acid Sequence. The meme has also become associated with several other songs, such as Spider-Man 2's Pizza Theme and "You reposted in the wrong neighborhood" (the latter having been a widespread choice of music for the dance long before Part 5 got animated). The meme becomes even funnier when it was discovered the dance syncs almost too well to other songs, such as "Backstreet's Back", as seen here. Someone did the same with Billie Jean King's "Fuck You" video. Explanation This meme was always brought up whenever the scene where Mista first uses his Stand is mentioned. Here's the original clip. Mista is best girl. Explanation Mista's Stand, Sex Pistols, are six separate entities that act like children and constantly bicker with each other. Mista trying to get them to cooperate and trying not to play favorites between them adorably comes off like a frustrated father with six rowdy toddlers. "Was I supposed to be feeding mine too?"Explanation Giorno's Stand, the original canon. Stands can have little a salami!Explanation Combining this meme with "cats can have little a salami!". Pineapple ManExplanation Pesci's Gonk appearance has gotten quite the treatment, with his hairstyle and weirdly-shaped head being compared to a pineapple. The "look at this dude" Vine also was used quite often. Poking Giorno's tiddiesExplanation During the Illuso battle, Abbaocchio scolds Giorno and sticks his finger into Giorno's bare chest. The way the shot was framed was widely parodied, notably the fact that Giorno is 15 (drawing lots of spoofs where Abbaocchio is chased by the FBI for touching an underage minor). "This isn't so ba-OH MY GOD THEY SPILLED TRASH BACKWARDS"Explanation A quote from this Antifsh short, coming from Fugo's initial reaction to being trapped inside Illuso's mirror world. "There's no such thing as a world inside a mirror"Explanation Another quote from the same video referencing Kakyoin's response in Part 3 to Polnareff's claims about the Hanged Man attacking using mirrors. Cue now with a stand that sends its foes into a world inside a mirror. Bucciarati's having Hawaiian pizza tonightExplanation In trying to save Coco Jumbo and the rest of the gang, Bucciarati throws Prosciutto under the train, crushing him to death, and later kills Pesci by using his Stand to cut him apart into small pieces. Since Prosciutto means "ham" and Pesci resembles a pineapple, fans have joked about how he basically prepared the two main ingredients of Hawaiian pizza. "GENITALS GENITALS GENITALS GENITALS!" Explanation Bucciarati's Stand cry is "ARIARIARIARI" which ended up taking an awkward turn when fans discovered that "ari" is Filipino for "genitalia". TURTLE TOILETExplanatn A common meme moment comes in Bucciarati suggesting that they turn the closest into a toilet even remarking that the turtle could get nutrients from it." Cue pissed-off fans going "HOW DARE YOU MAKE COCO JUMBO A TOILET!" Giorno turning his hand into a piranha in the battle against Baby Face has had fans joking about Kars' similar ability, even suggesting that "his grandpa would be proud" (in a loose, non-biological way, given Kars created the Stone Mask that turned Dio into a vampire). DI MOLTOLTEExplanation A recurring expletive of Melone, meaning "very, extremely" or "well done". Melone, I am on the FUCKING edge right now! You're trying to say "Well done" but the phrase "Di Molto" means "A lot of!". The correct Italian phrase you're looking for is "Molto bene". Y! YOU SHOULD FUCKING KNOW THIS BECAUSE WE'RE ITALIAN! For the love of God, Melone, I AM BEGGING YOU SHOW SOME ITALIAN PRIDE AND GET IT RIGHT YOU RAPIST PIECE OF SHIT! Explanation On Reddit, the subreddit r/ShitPostCrusaders has a bot that automatically responds with this Giaccio-style copypasta whenever somebody says "di molto". On Melone- or Giaccio-related posts, sometimes people will post comments consisting of "di molto" and nothing else, just to trigger the bot. "Nah, Giorno's just waving." Explanation After losing a piece of his throat, Giorno Crusaders to contact the others, though Naranacia mistakes his waving as a message from Bucciarati. This has led to it being compared to the "rain sounds like Josuke" scenario. "Fugo, is something wrong?" Explanation Similar to "Contestant Hit of the 11th Universe", the dub made a mistake by having Abbaocchio address Naranacia as Fugo (who had stayed behind not too long before) during this scene. This hasn't gone unnoticed by the fandom. RIP, yet another of Giorno's snakesExplanation The snake that kills Melone dies and breaks apart into cubes shortly afterward, drawing ire from the fans who previously found it cruel how Gold Experience had to kill the poor Brick Snake to extract its blood and save Giorno's life. "WHERE IS MY SUPER SUIT?"Explanation Giaccio's Stand, White Album, takes the form of an armored suit enclosing his body that allows him to skate. As a result, fans have joked that he's wearing a "super suit".

"WHERE IS MY SUPER SUIT?"Explanation Giaccio's Stand, White Album, takes the form of an armored suit enclosing his body that allows him to skate. As a result, fans have joked that he's wearing a "super suit". Incoherently screaming at the show, alongside a series of heated tweets insulting the series fans. Fans have subsequently taken to overlaying this with one of Giaccio's several violent rants as a means of mocking her. Giacciopostingnote Giaccio's infamous ranting about figurative language really took off with the anime. Many people imitate it to go off on long-winded angry spriels about word play and minor inconveniences. A rather disturbing meme has popped up on Instagram replacing Giorno's eyes and mouth with his hair loops (warning: Body Horror incoming). The meme has crossed over to several other characters, most especially Kakyoin. King Crimson is Daylight Savings TimeExplanation King Crimson's ability to skip time has been humorously compared to the principle of Daylight Savings Time, which skips over one hour in order to correct working time with the daylight hours and save electricity. What made it funnier was Daylight Savings Time actually happening while Golden Wind was airing, just a few short months after King Crimson first appeared. Naranacia is AquamanExplanation The anime shows Naranacia talking underwater while swimming over Bucciarati's boat and calling out to them. As such, many fans have jokingly claimed that Naranacia can breathe underwater because of his stand ability, and some fan edits on Youtube even replaces his dialogue with incomprehensible gurgling whenever his head goes underwater... completely forgetting that Stand Users have been communicating underwater with their stands since Part 3's Dark Blue Moon fight, but when has the Internet let common sense get in the way of a good meme? Some have suggested he is actually a mermaid. On a related note, lots of fans have suggested that Fugo not joining into the betrayal was not because he had conflicted loyalties or was being pragmatic, he simply didn't know how to swim. "Fugone" Explanation (spoilers) A pun used to refer how Fugo left the Part for good after staying behind when Bucciarati decides to betray the Boss. Abbaocchio joins in the end of the Green Day and Oasis story arc, Giorno finishes off Ciocolata with a beatdown that lasts through 7 pages in the manga. Widely considered one of the best scenes in Part 5 and the entire franchise, the hype for this being animated reached fever pitch in the weeks leading up to episode 31, with a meme regarding the hype making the front page of Know Your Meme the day before it went up. David Productions, aware of how this was the one scene they couldn't afford to mess up, even went as far as to task 6 of their key staff (called the "Muda Muda Animators
